DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 2-11, 13-17, 19, 36-40, 42 and 44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Specifically, Applicants have amended the claims to recite that matching of suppliers and purchasers is performed based on profiles of each. Applicants provide cites to the specification, but these provide no insight as to how such comparison is performed. The comparison keys recited for sellers and purchasers differ and it is unclear how comparison of unlike keys would be performed (e.g., a comparison key for location is recited fro the purchaser, but not a seller. Additionally, the specification provides no information as to what methods, algorithms or systems are used to perform the comparison. No information is provided as to what statistical or inferential methods are used by the invention. Applicants disclose at page 27 of the specification, that “As time goes by and specific buyers and sellers enter more and more purchase orders and supply commitments, respectively, the databases are updated to include a better and better reflection of particular characteristic of both buyers and sellers” and that “...the profiling system becomes more and more intelligent over time about users buying and selling patterns and becomes more efficient at matching them”. The specification recites these desirable goals but provides no insight as to how to obtain “a better reflection” and how “the system becomes more intelligent.” Examples of detailed information that conveys that Applicants had possession of the invention are a particular set of comparison keys (no set of comparison criteria are clearly identified in the claims or specification) and a learning algorithm or neural network to manipulate key information to draw inferences about buyers and sellers. The specification provides no such detailed information.

The lack of clarity in the claims and specification precludes application of prior art in the examination of the claims.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
